STUDENT LIFE
Traveling twice through a town or state one benefits from the knowledge gained during the first visit. As you take a "Sentimental Journey" through this year we sincerely wish that the various activities shown in the 1965 Retrospectus will illustrate the admirable characteristics of Retrospectus—brotherhood, sportsmanship, leadership, understanding, patience, loyalty—and that you will gain a better understanding of student life from your trip.
MR. ANDERSON

A dynamic, “Master Teacher”, Charles “Andy” Anderson, is not soon forgotten by any student who has been privileged to be a member of any of his classes. He has the rare ability to stimulate one’s best efforts and to make the subject of College English, if not intensely interesting and highly enjoyable, at least endurable and palatable.

“Andy” has endeared himself to his students through the years as an outstanding member of the College faculty. His counsel and sincere personal interest have been strong factors in the successful careers of many Davenport College graduates.

As Vice-President for Student Affairs, Mr. Anderson plays an important part on the executive team of the College. He is also a much sought-after speaker by civic clubs, educational organizations, and business groups throughout Western Michigan.
MRS. NETTIE BURPEE
1895—1964

Many people have come into my life, and passed on again; and each in turn has left his mark. The one person I’m going to single out, however, did more than just guide or help me along the way. This person has helped me bridge the gap between small town narrowness, and the broad expanse of city life.

This person was a friend, but more than that, she was a second mother to me. Her door was always open with the feeling that I was welcome to stop in for just a few minutes; or in many cases, to linger an hour or more over an ever ready cup of coffee. Through our discussions she led me to understand that other people live and believe differently, and that it is necessary not to limit my world to those things which are familiar to me, but that I should mingle with the others, and understand that they are sincere about their way of life, too.

She did these things and many more I can’t recall now, but each small thing was a part in filling my need and guiding me toward a richer, broader outlook on living.

I could tell more ways this lady guided my life, but I will stop with these things I have mentioned about Mrs. Nettie Burpee, former housemother and friend, who died as she lived, with good will toward all and malice toward none.

MR. SNEDE}N

The forward look in education places more and more emphasis upon specialized vocational education. The President of our College, Robert W. Sneden, is a national leader in the development of specialized business education; and Davenport College under his leadership has attained the status of one of the leading colleges of business education in the nation.

As recent past-president of the United Business Schools Association Mr. Sneden’s influence has been felt and his voice has been heard throughout the nation. We are proud to have this man as President of our College.

Mr. Sneden is truly an unusual person. His warm welcome and sound advice to freshmen, his congenial personality, his dedication to the destiny of the College and his leadership in the administration of the College are appreciated by the faculty and the entire student body.
