As winter turns to summer, students’ thoughts turn from work to play; and in college life there is plenty of both. Our theme is “Students work and play together.”

You will see students studying retailing, law, typing, shorthand, and psychology as well as planning, sponsoring, and carrying out different activities.

But the thing we do best together is have fun! From the freshman mixer in the fall to the spring picnic in the spring, the whole year is filled with pancake suppers, dances, card nights, egg fights and any other kind of fun the young college mind can think of.

All the working and playing Davenport students did is now history, but the memories of students working and playing together will never be forgotten for now it is committed to paper and our memories.
DEDICATION

This yearbook is dedicated to the students of Davenport College of Business. Without the help of these students, this book would not be possible, not only from the standpoint of all the valuable time they put into it, but also from all the activities that they planned, sponsored and carried out.

This book is not mine, it's ours—the students, the people whom this book is all about.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the administration and the faculty for their help, encouragement and undying patience.

But to the students, again, we say “thank you” and to show our appreciation, we dedicate this book to you.
